

SEVERE WEATHER RESTRICTS MILITARY OPERATIONS OF 5TH ARMY MANNING WESTERN HALF OF ITALIAN FRONT

British 8th Army Forces Engage Germans in Eastern Italy in Bitter Patrol Clashes—Capture Some Nazi Prisoners—U. S. Units Recapture Some Ground

ALGIERS, Nov. 17.—(INS)—British Eighth Army forces engaged the Germans in eastern Italy in bitter patrol clashes today and captured some Nazi prisoners.

Extremely bad weather continued to restrict military operations, especially those of the Allied Fifth Army manning the western half of the trans-peninsular front.

Units of the Eighth were reported to have seized further high ground on the eastern flank of the battlefront.

British units at the coastal end of the Garigliano river front shot to pieces a Nazi patrol which was ambushed on the south side of the stream.

American units recaptured some of the ground they had lost previously in the Mount Croce ridges north of Venafro.

Fighters and fighter-bombers attacked German targets in the battle area and shipping off the Adriatic coast. In all aerial operations yesterday over Italy and other Mediterranean points 13 Nazi craft were shot down or otherwise destroyed. Three Allied craft were reported missing.

Cornwells Women to Give Luncheon Tomorrow

An appetizing menu is to be served tomorrow at noon at the luncheon to be given in the fire station of Cornwells Fire Co., No. 1, Bristol Pike, at Cornwells. The affair is to be given by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Company and the proceeds are to be used to defray the expenses for Christmas packages for boys of the entire voting district who are in the service.

The menu will consist of roast pork and beans, mashed potatoes, stewed tomatoes, Harvard beets, rolls, coffee, and cake. Ice cream will be for sale.

Daylight Air Raid Test Held This Morning

A daylight air-raid test was sounded this morning.

The yellow signal was received as Bristol control center at 10:24; the blue signal at 10:50; and the all-clear at 11:02. There was no red signal received.

The control center was staffed; but the number of air-raid wardens and emergency police on duty on the streets was few, due, it is believed, to the fact that many of them are employed in the daytime.

VIEWING THIS EVENING

Relatives and friends are invited to call at Ye Olde Delaware House this evening to pay respects to the late Mrs. Sophie Lincoln, who died on Sunday evening. The funeral will be held tomorrow at nine a. m., from her home, with Solemn Requiem Mass in St. Mark's Church at 10 o'clock, and burial in St. Mark's Churchyard.

FALSE ALARM

A false alarm of fire was sounded from the alarm system box at Jefferson avenue and Radcliffe street, yesterday at noon.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

By International News Service

Incessant Allied aerial blows against the Japanese in the Rabaul-Solomon area threatened today to precipitate a major breakthrough by the United Nations of the enemy's tough outer defense ring of strongholds in the south-west Pacific.

This growing belief was strengthened by a navy spokesman in Washington who pointed out that during the past six days American Navy pilots alone destroyed 102 Jap planes against a loss of only 15 United States aircraft, a ratio of seven-to-one.

"The Japs have suffered enough damage to important fleet units to give them cause to consider seriously the abandonment of the base at Rabaul as too hot to handle," the Washington Navy spokesman said.

Loss of Rabaul, gateway to the Jap-mandated islands in the central Pacific, by the enemy would open the way for smashing blows by Allied land and carrier-based aircraft such important Jap bases as Truk, 800 miles to the north.

And the plight of the enemy has been aggravated by the fact that if a major Japanese fleet task force is risked to send reinforcements it would be open to attack from the rear by U. S. Admiral Chester W. Nimitz's powerful Pacific fleet forces from the Hawaiian area.

However, Gen. Douglas MacArthur still does not have at his command the forces and material necessary for continued large-scale operations against the Japanese, according to a spokesman at MacArthur's headquarters in the southwest Pacific.

This spokesman, Col. LeGrande A. Diller, said that less than five per cent of America's ground forces were in the southwest Pacific, and that Gen. MacArthur received less than 10 per cent of United States overseas shipments of materiel.

Col. Diller was replying to a statement by Rear Admiral W. H. Young, who was quoted as saying

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Soldier Vote and OWI

Washington, Nov. 16.—AS 1944 approaches, the thought that the OWI, operated by Mr. Elmer Davis, is the one channel through which will be transmitted the political information designed to help our soldiers and sailors abroad vote intelligently in the next election commends itself less and less to those who are not fourth termers.

DESPITE the consistency with which Mr. Davis speaks well of himself, few who have had a chance to review his operations since he came to Washington have much confidence in his ability to be non-partisan or detached in such matters. What Mr. Davis might consider nonpartisan in the extreme likely would be regarded by many on the other side as extremely partisan. Certainly, some of the outpourings of the OWI foreign division in the past year would seem to justify this view.

IF THE deliberate purpose had been to use the taxpayers' money to defile Mr. Roosevelt, it is hard to see how some of the OWI stuff which has been spread abroad could be improved upon. The mere fact that Mr. Davis and several of his aides are such pronounced, not to say fanatical, New Dealers would seem to disqualify them from any job requiring a non-partisan approach. It may do them an injustice, but, however pure their hearts, their known political predilections could hardly help but create distortion.

CERTAINLY, that is the way the anti-fourth termers feel about it. It is a topic very much to the front in the minds of anti-Administration Democrats, as well as Republicans, in Congress, and it seems fairly sure that before final passage of any bill to enable the soldiers to

ONE OF WORLD'S GREAT VIOLINISTS IS NOW USING HIS MUSICAL EAR TO HELP DETECT FLAWS IN MATERIEL

Someone might have fiddled while Rome burned but his name was not Godfrey Ludlow.

Ludlow, one of the world's great violinists, whom NBC rates among its all-time musical stars, has put aside his violin and is now using his musical ear for Brewster Aeronautical Corporation to help detect flaws in materiel.

His particular job is in Brewster's receiving inspection department at Long Island City, N. Y. Here he taps incoming metal parts and by listening to the sound waves is able to prevent any defective material from going into Navy Buccaneer dive bombers or Corsair fighters.

Born in Sidney, Australia, he embarked upon a musical career at the age of six when he improvised a violin out of a cigar box, a stick and a few waxed strings. At nine he had won a gold medal musical award at school and five years later was in Prague studying under the famous professor, Sevcik. After three years in Prague he moved on to Vienna where, at the age of 17, he passed the requirement test for entrance to the Imperial and Royal Academy of Music.

After completing his studies in Austria he toured Europe and played before most of the royal families. At the outbreak of the first World War Ludlow was touring Russia where he was captured by the German Army and confined to a prison camp for four years. Upon release he resumed his musical career in England and, in 1923, came to America for a radio debut. When the present war began Ludlow undertook a 23,000 mile concert tour of Army camps. He was so impressed with the need for all-out effort that upon his return home he set aside his violin and applied for a position at Brewster where he has been working ever since.

Two United States Marines and a sailor were injured, Monday, in a head-on collision of two automobiles on the Bethlehem pike two miles north of Quakertown. One of the Marines is in a critical condition in the Quakertown Community Hospital.

One car was driven by Pfc. Joseph Gorchinsky, 24, U. S. Marine, a patient at the U. S. Naval Hospital in Philadelphia. He recently returned from action in the Southwest Pacific and was on the way to his home near Quakertown to spend the night when his car ran head-on into a car driven by Eugene Ricci, 33, U. S. Navy, of 1031 Northampton street, Easton.

Ricci was on his way back to the Philadelphia Navy Yard and had picked up a Marine, Charles J. Long, 21, of Allentown RD 4, along the highway. Long was also returning to the Navy Yard.

According to Trooper Shovelin, of the Quakertown sub-station of State Police, Gorchinsky's car was on the wrong side of the highway when it crashed into the Ricci car.

All three were taken to the Quakertown Community Hospital. Gorchinsky and Ricci suffered chest injuries but Long's condition is quite serious, his injuries consisting of a possible fractured skull, a compound fracture of the right leg, a broken nose and a broken jaw.

55,000 New 1942 Model Cars Must Last Until 1945

By Erwin D. Sias
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(INS)—American motorists were told today by an OPA spokesman that the present supply of about 55,000 new, 1942-model passenger automobiles will be depleted before the end of next year.

This gloomy news on the civilian transportation front was accompanied by a disclosure from the War Production Board that no civilian automobile production is in sight for the duration.

The OPA recently curtailed allotments of new cars for the November-December period in order to stretch out the dwindling supplies as far into 1944 as possible.

"When those cars are gone," the spokesman declared, "there just won't be any more new ones left."

Automobile dealers, however, also have an estimated 29,000 additional new passenger cars on hand which are classified as demonstrators and executive cars, he said. These autos are subject to rationing only if the dealer wishes to sell them.

OPA believes the dealers will not "let go" of their personal cars. "There has been no discussion in WPB concerning possibility of building new cars as far as I know," one WPB official declared.

Although some auto dealers have asserted that the end of the European war would see resumption of automobile production in this country, this optimistic view was squelched by WPB officials who see "no new automobiles being built for the duration."

Twenty-two bidders competed for the five contracts into which the request for estimates had been divided.

The addition will contain four rooms, while the present structure has eight. The cost of the present building was about $67,000, two years ago.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1943

THE COST OF WAR

Proof that the reparations problem which the victorious Allies faced in 1919 is of puny significance as compared to the problem this war presents has come from the latest estimates of the British Ministry of Economic Warfare. Up to the end of September, 1943, Germany has exacted in cash $18,000,000,000 from the conquered countries.

The Germans are collecting from every nation that they have conquered what they call "occupation costs." In addition, they are draining the countries of their resources, paying with blocked money, marks which can not be taken out of Germany. The British agency estimates the German loot to be running at the rate of $4,800,000,000 a year.

All this is completely aside from the hidden scientific looting which has been going on, the transfer of industry and workers, the tremendous damage and loss inflicted by the German military juggernaut. The British figured the total German loot, including all seized property, at a minimum of $36,000,000,000 at the end of 1941. It must now be in excess of $50,000,000,000, and when the billions in actual physical damage to cities and towns and farms are added, the total will probably run into hundreds of billions of dollars.

It is obvious that the problem of reparations may be the most grievous of all the problems to be faced at the peace table.

CHRISTMAS FORESIGHT

The plea of the postmasters that Christmas parcels be mailed before the end of November is based on an acute shortage of postal employees. Unless the limited force can handle these packages over a longer period, much Christmas mail will not be delivered until long after December 25.

In addition to a shortage of help in the local post offices and the probability that emergency workers will not respond to the calls for help that are being made now, the mail service is considerably curtailed in all parts of the country. Mail cars have been diverted to other types of service and not more than half the normal airplane capacity is available for airmail.

While the stores have been fortunate in acquiring stocks of Christmas merchandise, their problem also needs public consideration as they are attempting to provide service with less help than formerly and their delivery schedules have been sharply curtailed by federal orders. It often happens that people delay holiday purchases until the weather and the approach of Christmas put them in a buying mood.

They may follow this custom when conditions are normal, but if they delay this year they will risk disappointment.

In one category, at least, 1944 will not be a year of scarcity. There will be no dearth of political candidates.

What burns up "Honest Harold" Ickes is that even when he attacks the press, it continues to ignore him.

vote some way will be found to put a check on the OWI distribution of campaign information so as to insure real nonpartisanship. Mr. Davis it not up to like this sort of check. But then, those who recall Mr. Davis' membership in the somewhat Communistic American Labor party of New York and appreciate the quality of his New Dealism, do not like the idea of him being unsupervised and unchecked in this business of deciding what political facts 10,000,000 soldiers and sailors should have upon which to form their voting views.

ESPECIALLY, they dislike it when coupled with the fact that the bill to facilitate the soldiers voting is sponsored by two intensely partisan fourth-term Senators—Green, of Rhode Island, and Lucas, of Illinois—and that, under their bill, the election would be conducted by a "nonpartisan" commission, named by the President, who, clearly, either will be a candidate to succeed himself, or will have picked the candidate. Take these things all together—the bill drawn by two very partisan Senators; the commission to be named by the candidate himself, and the information to be channeled through the candidate's personal appointee, known to be deeply committed to him politically and personally—without impugning any sinister or dishonest purpose to anyone, this just does not seem right.

THE ANTI-FOURTH termers are as anxious to facilitate voting for the men in the service as the fourth termers, but by no stretch of the imagination can the machinery which it is proposed to set up be regarded as really non-partisan. Before the bill is passed, some way surely will be found to meet the more obvious objections. Especially is there a determination not to leave the decision of what po-

Baked Peaches For Dessert

By BETTY BARCLAY

Nowadays, "company" desserts are not expected to be elaborate concoctions smothered with whipped cream.

In many ways a simple dessert is far more attractive anyhow, but it must be something out of the ordinary—an effective dessert that reflects the hostess' desire to give pleasure even though time is limited and a great many customary ingredients are a little on the short side, too!

A dish that doesn't involve any last minute fixing is always an advantage, and one of them is baked peaches stuffed with a delectable macaroon filling.

Because the recipe calls for cake and macaroon crumbs, don't start thinking it's a good idea to skip on the sugar. A dessert simply has to be sweet to be good, and the last course more than any other determines the satisfaction value of the entire meal. The attractive appearance of a dessert is psychologically pleasing, of course, but it's the actual sugar content that turns the tempting promise into truly satisfying performance, for sugar is the most quickly absorbed of all the carbohydrates, providing us with an almost instant renewal of energy.

Had we been entirely dependent upon shipments of sugar from foreign and insular producing areas, then sweet desserts might have been out for the duration. But we weren't. Here in the United States we have a home-grown source of sugar from sugar beets which each year accounts for a substantial part of our normal consumption requirements. And since sugar from sugarcane and sugar from sugar beets are identical in sweetness, appearance, food value, chemical composition, and all other properties, they may be used interchangeably for all purposes.

Always remember that, nutritionally speaking, an excellent place for sugar is in the dessert, so let's make sure our fruits, puddings and sauces are always sufficiently sweet.

Baked Macaroon Peaches

BUT, FOR domestic purposes, the excuse for the OWI gets thinner all the time. It does not give out the army news, nor the navy news, nor the State Department news, nor the White House news. Washington correspondents say that, with rare exceptions, all they get from the OWI are handouts which normally would have come from the separate agencies twenty-four hours earlier.

And it has not succeeded in greatly reducing the number of press agents on the Federal pay roll. Recently a new director for the domestic field was installed. He is the third within a year. They come and they go very quickly and they leave things about the way they found them. There is very little else they can do. Some seek to justify the domestic end of the OWI on the ground that it is a "moral builder" but the evidence is lacking. Actually it is the sogiest of all Administration agencies, which is saying quite a lot.

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Gailey)

Pastor

Bristol Presbyterian Church

Eternal Father, Who hast given unto us all that we possess, make us stewards of Thy many blessings. Enable us to realize the divine ownership of everything; time, money and ability. Lead us to that point of consecration where we shall return unto Thee everything which Thou hast loaned unto us, altered only in the using; increased in value because of growth in usefulness. Deliver us from vain self-glory and save us from the sin of selfishness, that we might give liberally and sacrificially for the maintenance and advancement of the message of the Gospel in a war-torn world. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mitchell, Swain street.

George Boyer returned to Sampson, N. Y., after spending several days at his home on Cleveland street.

Albert Hey, Fairfield, Conn., spent a day during the past week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hey, Landreth Manor.

Miss Ruth Plack, Burlington, N. J., was a Monday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Groom, West Bristol.

Pvt. Joseph Bornice, New Cumberland, spent the week-end with his wife on Beaver street.

Miss Margaret Deiterick, Philadelphia, spent Friday until Sunday with Miss Betty Lebo, 1520 Trenton avenue.

BACK TO SCHOOL SNACKS

The children are once more back in school. In many homes while Danny and Dottie are in their classrooms, mother is busy with Red Cross work or some other war activity. Thus, arises the need for quick after-school snacks and time-saving nourishing desserts.

Easily prepared rennet-custards, made in the morning and placed in the refrigerator—all ready to serve when the kiddies return from school—solves mother's dessert problem; for this hurried but healthful snack must be prepared in a minimum amount of time.

All children (milk lovers and non-milk drinkers) will enjoy milk made up in this delicious form. Best of all, the two desserts given, can be made with non-rationed foods:

Maple Cream Rennet-Custard

1 package maple rennet powder

1 cup milk, not canned

1 cup cream (light)

Set out 4 or 5 individual dessert glasses. Dissolve rennet tablet by crushing in cold water in a cup. Add sugar, vanilla, salt and slightly beaten egg yolks to milk and warm slowly, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When comfortably warm (110 degrees F.) not hot, remove at once from heat. Add dissolved rennet tablet and stir quickly for a few seconds only. Pour at once, while still liquid, into individual dessert glasses. Do not move until firm—about 10 minutes. Chill.

Egg Rennet-Custard

1 household rennet tablet

1 tablespoon cold water

2 cups milk, not canned

3 tablespoons sugar

2 egg yolks

1 teaspoon vanilla

Small pinch salt

Set out 4 or 5 individual dessert glasses. Dissolve rennet tablet by crushing in cold water in a cup. Add sugar, vanilla, salt and slightly beaten egg yolks to milk and warm slowly, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When comfortably warm (110 degrees F.) not hot, remove at once from heat. Add dissolved rennet tablet and stir quickly for a few seconds only. Pour at once, while still liquid, into individual dessert glasses. Do not move until firm—about 10 minutes. Chill.

MacArthur's spokesman acknowledged more men and materials were at MacArthur's disposal than heretofore, but emphasized that the strength was by no means enormous. The instructions to Gen. MacArthur to fight a holding war have so far not been altered by Washington, Col. Diller said.

Meantime, however, Allied airmen continued their shattering blows against Jap shipping, and today the sinking of an 8,000-ton enemy merchantman, the beaching of a second and damaging of a third, was reported.

Twin-motored Mitchell medium bombers caught two of the Jap ships off Rabaul, and in mast-height attacks sank the 8,000-tonner and damaged the second. Night patrol bombers spotted the third Jap ship, a craft of 9,000 tons, in the St.

On the Russian front the Nazi high command threw vast reserves into that section of the battlefield between Gomel and Zhitomir in a frantic effort to stem the surging Soviet drive toward Poland.

The fall of the important Nazi-occupied rail junction of Korosten appeared imminent, and more than 1,000 Nazis were reported killed in that area alone. The Red army captured Zlobichi, and then pressed on still further to a point only six miles from Korosten, and here the Germans hurled in fierce infantry and tank counter-attacks in an attempt to recover their position. Russian artillery opened a heavy barrage against the outskirts of Gomel, already nearly encircled by a ring of Russian steel.

In Italy the Anglo-Canadian Eighth Army beat back a Nazi counter-attack at the eastern end of the battle-line, in the Montezelli sector. The Eighth also seized further enemy-held high ground. On the western end of the line the Fifth Army, principally American units in the center of the front, crumbled in bitter combat with the Nazis who counter-attacked repeatedly in defense of Hitler's winter line.

All The Lemon Pies You Want!

By BETTY BARCLAY

Lemons play a leading role these days for they help through their numerous household uses and cooking aids, to make work lighter for busy war-time homemakers. There may be many food shortages but the lemon crop promises to meet all fall and winter demands. Every member of the family can have his fill of lemon pie and all the other lemon flavored delicacies of which he is fond.

Perhaps in all groups the favorite of favorites is the Lemon Meringue Pie, and by taking three tiny precautions, every cook can be sure of serving such a pie with a flaky crust, a fragrant fresh filling, and a tender, easy-to-cut meringue.

First, be sure to add lemon juice and egg to the pastry mix; second, cook filling first, then add freshly squeezed lemon juice after removing from the stove; third, add a little lemon juice to the meringue. Here's the full recipe:

Lemon Meringue Pie
3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
1 slightly beaten egg
3 tablespoons lemon juice
Ice water

Sift flour and salt together. Cut in shortening. Add egg, combine with lemon juice. Add gradually just enough ice water to bind dough together. Roll pastry out thin and line pie plates. (This recipe makes three 8-inch single pie shells. Keep unbaked dough in refrigerator until needed.) Bake in hot oven (475 degrees F.) for 15 minutes.

For filling use:
1 cup water or milk
¾ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
5 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup cold water
2 well-beaten egg yolks
1 tablespoon butter
6 tablespoons lemon juice
Bring water or milk, sugar, salt and lemon peel to a boil in saucepan on direct heat. Add cornstarch, blended with ½ cup cold water. Cook over low heat, until thickened (about 5 minutes), stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add separately, mixing well after each addition, the egg yolks, butter and lemon juice. Pour filling into baked pastry shell.

When filling is cool, top with a meringue, made from:
2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Beat egg whites until frothy. Add sugar gradually. Continue beating but only until egg holds its shape in peaks. Fold in lemon juice. Brown pie in moderate oven (325 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. (Makes one 8-inch pie.)

Now that there'll be plenty of lemons on hand, you'll want to serve lemonade often. For quick lemonade, squeeze out enough fresh lemon juice for 2 or 3 days, then add half as much sugar as you have juice and put it in a covered glass jar in the refrigerator. That way it keeps fresh and can be served in a jiffy. When ready to serve, simply add ice and water to the lemonade "starter".

The German agency DNB claimed today that 5,000 Italian and 3,000 British troops on the Isle of Leros in the Dodecanese, had surrendered, and that 103 Allied guns and other war material was captured. The Nazis made no references to Greek units on the island which were put ashore to aid the embattled Anglo-Italian forces at Leros.

Keystone Dairy Co. Aids War Fund Drive

"When we realize that the funds that Bristol raises, and that every other town and hamlet in the United States raises, will go to aid our own soldiers and our fighting allies, we will want to give just as much as we possible can," Mr. Russo declared.

"It is an honor and a privilege to be asked to give to such a worthy cause . . . and you will be asked to give just once for the seventeen government approved agencies that will distribute the funds. Among these agencies is the USO," Mr. Russo said.

The letter from the Keystone Dairy Co. follows:

November 15, 1943
Mr. Anthony Russo, Chairman, United War Fund
Second Ward, Bristol, Pa.
Mr. dear Mr. Russo:

Our Board of Directors has instructed me to forward to you the enclosed check, as our small contribution toward attaining the quota which has been set for our ward.

It is our hope that you may be privileged to see an over subscription of the goal for this most worthy public endeavor, for we know your efforts deserve such results.

Yours very sincerely,

KEYSTONE DAIRY COMPANY

GEORGE BOOS, Pres.
